

BRUCE BROWN FILMWORKS INCORPORATED

Bruce Brown FilmWorks has built a loyal and respected client base within the non profit sector. Many of our clients turn to us each year to produce video for their annual gala or fundraising events. These events provide an extremely captive audience willing to contribute to your cause. It's the perfect forum to showcase an inspiring video about your non profit. The more an audience understands the cause the more likely they are to support and give annually. Increase annual giving by up to 200% with video. It is through video that audiences can see how your non profit is making a difference. As a result they take action. Fundraising/Gala Videos Work! Every video Bruce Brown FilmWorks has produced for such an event has helped that non profit exceed and at times double their fundraising goal. The average video is 7-10 minutes in length and the production timeline is 1-3 months depending on the depth of the project..

Our Work Ethic

In an age represented by speed rather than substance and accuracy. Bruce Brown FilmWorks takes the trusted approach to working with it's clients. We focus on customer services. What a concept right? Regardless of your experience in the production realm, we make the process straight forward, easy to understand and dare we say, enjoyable. We structure the production so that our client's vision and mission are always at the for-front and clearly understood.

We accomplish this by taking time to educate ourselves on how your organization operates and relates with your target audience. Our goal is to see each company or organization in the same positive light that you do. However, at the same time by using our objectivity we can offer a fresh approach to how best to reach your viewers.

25 Years Experience

With over 25 years of production experience, trust that our staff can guide you through a flawless production. We have numerous partners and seasonal clients that return each year to develop new and exciting projects. Regardless of the complexity of the project, Bruce Brown FilmWorks can always find a solution that will stream line the production process.
